

The End of Alzheimer's

Dr Bredesen, A professor of Neurology at the University of California, after 25 years of research, has concluded that the causes of Alzheimer's can fall under 4 categories.

These are:

1. A heavy toxic load in the body.
2. Your body's inability to rid itself of toxins effectively
3. Lack of vital brain nutrients
4. Inflammation levels that are too high

Under these 4 headings, he has identified, in total, 38 specific causes of Alzheimers.

He has now proven that by addressing all these 4 points in detail you can not only prevent alzheimers from occurring, you can reverse early onset.

Dr Bredesen, MD, is internationally recognised as an expert in the mechanisms of neurodegenerative disease such as Alzheimers. He is Professor of Neurology at the University of California, Los Angeles.

His book is called 'The End of Alzheimers' and you can purchase it on Amazon.

Alzheimers is the only chronic disease which you die of and up until now there has been no answer to it.

Like all chronic diseases there is no silver bullet for treatment. That is why the big pharmaceutical companies have withdrawn their clinical trials to try and find a cure for Alzheimers. There has been no drug registered since 2003 and even that is pretty ineffective.

As we all know in the naturopathic world, you cannot tie a chronic disease down to one cause. It is ALWAYS multi factorial.

And that is why the treatment also always has to be multi factorial.

At my clinic I have been working with many different chronic diseases and I now have a bioresonance machine that will help me determine the main causes. This helps me to draw up an effective therapeutic plan.

I can now test you for all the major toxins that might build up in the brain, including Lyme disease which has found to be present in a very high percentage of Alzheimers sufferers. (this has been found from autopsies).

It helps me to determine what toxic loads you have in your body which may be driving Alzheimers and other types of chronic disease. These toxins include parasites, viruses, pathogenic bacteria, heavy metals, dental stress, and something we call 'therapy blocks.'

In his book, Dr bredesen explains how a toxic build up in the brain can be one of the main causes of Alzheimers.

It has long been thought that a build up of Amyloid plaque in the brain is one of the main culprits.

This has since been found to be false. In fact the build of Amyloid plaque has been found to be the brain's way of protecting itself from a toxin build up!!

In reality the toxic load comes from a number of sources – all of which are increasing in today's polluted environment.

I can help you address all of the major points raised in Dr Bredeson's book – including testing you for which specific nutrients you might be deficient in.
